

mercEmail

A Weekly Devotional from the South Green Street Church of Christ

He's Back!

by Steve Higginbotham

As you are reading this line, suppose with me for just a moment, that the end of the world has come. As you are sitting there at your computer reading this, imagine that the heavens open up, with the shout of the arch angel, and Jesus returns, descending in the heavens. The graves are opened, and those who were dead are resurrected. Then you, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, are changed from your mortal body to an immortal body. There's no time to change. There's no time to make amends. There's no time to do what you have left undone. It's over. Times up. Now what? Judgment. Are you ready?

You know, some day will be our last day. Some day, the sun will rise for the last time. Some day, you will eat your last meal. Some day you will kiss your spouse and your children for the very last time. Some day your last opportunity to obey the Lord will pass. The end will come. The return of the Lord is certain. Is your readiness just as certain as the Lord's return? Give it some thought.